- Metro is the recommended mode of travel to get to the Summit. Use the Red Line to arrive at Judiciary Square. As you get off the metro, use the Courthouse Exit then cross the street. You should see the Frances Perkins Buildings straight ahead, and the DOL is on your left. You will cross 3rd Street and use the 3rd and C St. NW entrance near the fountain.
- If you are driving, there is a parking garage behind the building; cost is at least $20 to park for the day.
- As you approach the front of the building, on your right-hand side is a designated security entrance. Event signage will direct you to the appropriate door for Summit participants. Staff will be available to direct you following security.
- All Summit attendees will need some form of government ID to enter the building.
- A light breakfast will be available before the Partnerships Summit begins. There will be a box lunch and afternoon refreshments. We will try to accommodate your dietary needs.
- Dress for the Partnerships Summit is business casual. We are unsure of what the room temperature will be, so please dress in layers to allow you to warm up or cool down if necessary. The room will be large so acoustics may present a challenge. Make sure to speak clearly.
- Prepare to do interactive work with others, so leave your office work behind and be prepared to fully engage in the small group activities. There will be a place to store luggage and a coat rack will be available.
- Community teams: You may place business cards and brochures in front of your poster during the Gallery Walk
