I. Executive Summary

USICH, an independent agency within the executive branch, was created to review the effectiveness of Federal activities and programs to assist people experiencing homelessness, promote better coordination and reduce duplication among agency programs. USICH has provided professional and technical assistance to state and local governments and private sector organizations about the cost-effective use of Federal homeless assistance. The Interagency Council has included the heads of 19 federal agencies or their designees, and its activities have been supported by the Agency staff.

USICH was originally authorized by Congress in 1987 amid urgent concerns over the homelessness crisis in America. Over the past three decades, USICH has made tremendous strides in its mission to "create a national partnership at every level of government and with the private sector to reduce and end homelessness in the nation while maximizing the effectiveness of the federal government in contributing to the end of homelessness."

Through its efforts, USICH has demonstrated that, as a nation, we know how to and we can end homelessness in America. Between 2010 and 2018, total homelessness has been reduced by 13 percent, family homelessness has been reduced by 29 percent, chronic homelessness among people with disabilities has been reduced by 16 percent, and Veteran homelessness has been reduced by 49 percent. Nearly 70 communities across more than 30 different states have effectively ended Veteran homelessness and have created lasting systems that can effectively and efficiently respond to future needs. With the publication of Home, Together: The Federal Strategic Plan to Prevent and End Homelessness in July 2018, USICH set a path for continued coordination across the federal government for the years ahead. These efforts can and should continue among the federal agencies.

The Budget proposes to wind-down USICH operations in FY 2020. Prior to the beginning of FY 2020, USICH staff would engage in the activities necessary for the orderly cessation of the agency's programmatic activities. The Budget request assumes 2 employees would continue employment in FY 2020 to complete the remainder of shutdown administrative activities from October 1 to November 1, 2019. This Request covers salaries, benefits, and operational costs for this time period, as well as required staff severance and lump sum leave payments that would come due in FY 2020.

II. Organization and Process

The Agency

USICH was originally authorized by Title II of the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act of 1987 (PL 100-77) to serve as an independent establishment within the executive branch. USICH was most recently reauthorized by the Homeless Emergency Assistance and Rapid Transition to Housing (HEARTH) Act of 2009. In recent years, USICH's budgeted FTE compliment has been 19 FTE, organized into 5 teams: Executive Office; Policy Team; field-based National Initiatives Team; Communications Team; and Finance and Administration Team. Leadership has included the executive director, deputy director, director of national initiatives, director of communications, director of finance and administration, and chief of staff. Employees work across the federal government, in close partnership with state and local governments, and with non-profit and private sectors. USICH staff have been recognized subject matter experts, shaping federal policy and strategies and supporting state and local implementation of proven strategies to prevent and end homelessness.

The Council

The Council has included senior leaders of 19 member agencies: the U.S. Department of Agriculture, U.S. Department of Commerce, U.S. Department of Defense, U.S. Department of Education, U.S. Department of Energy, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, U.S. Department of Homeland Security, U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, U.S. Department of Interior, U.S. Department of Justice, U.S. Department of Labor, U.S. Department of Transportation, U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, Corporation for National and Community Service, General Services Administration, Office of Management and Budget, Social Security Administration, United States Postal Service, and the White House Faith and Opportunity Initiative.

The Council has typically met four times each year to review progress on implementation of the federal strategic plan, to structure collaboration among Council member agencies, and to identify strategies to strengthen federal efforts, and partnerships with states and local communities, to improve progress in preventing and ending homelessness. In preparation for these quarterly Council meetings, USICH has convened its Council Policy Group (CPG) with senior staff representation from each member agency, driving collaboration, coordinating policies and programs, collecting data, developing special initiatives, and preparing recommendations for consideration by the full Council.

In recent years, Council meeting discussion topics have included: revising and strengthening the current federal strategic plan to prevent and end homelessness and the development and issuance of Home, Together; connecting people experiencing homelessness to employment services and opportunities; addressing homelessness in rural communities and among Native Americans and tribal communities; federal data sources documenting homelessness and housing needs; collaborative approaches to addressing unsheltered homelessness and encampments; and progress reports regarding the implementation of the federal strategic plan.

Interagency Working Groups

To implement decisions reached by the Council, to drive on-going coordination across federal agencies and programs, and to ensure consistent guidance is provided to states and communities, USICH has coordinated the efforts of Council agencies through interagency working groups made up of senior level staff from its member agencies. Working groups in FY 2019 include:

- Solving Veteran Homelessness as One
- Interagency Working Group on Chronic Homelessness
- Interagency Working Group on Ending Family Homelessness
- Interagency Working Group on Ending Youth Homelessness
- Interagency Working Group on Homelessness among American Indians and Alaska Natives
- Interagency Working Group on Employment and Homelessness
- Interagency Working Group on Rural Homelessness
- Interagency Working Group on Preventing Homelessness Among Transitioning Service Members
- Interagency Working Group on Coordinated Entry

USICH has guided each working group in the development of an interagency work plan, has implemented performance management activities to assure accountability to shared actions and results, and has also provided expert guidance and support to member agencies' activities.

USICH's External Stakeholders and Partners

To inform federal strategies and to strengthen the impact of federal actions, USICH has engaged and partnered with a variety of external stakeholder groups with key roles in advancing local and national progress, including:

- Other Stakeholders Nationwide: Through a broad communications strategy that has included media engagement, speaking engagements, conference presentations, social media, and electronic newsletters, USICH has engaged a wide array of community-based and faith-based organizations and stakeholders across the country in support of the federal strategic plan and the most effective strategies to prevent and end homelessness.
